

ShannonRae

Speaker, author, CEO, coach, consultant, artist, activist, philanthropist, romantic, ordained minister, survivor, mother, sister, daughter, friend and lover...

ShannonRae, is the highly sought-after speaker and author of the Four Principles of Power, Living in the I AM, and I AM Powerful, as well as manuals on Agreement Based Accountability and Strengths Based Leadership; behavior management for Business with additional versions for parents and couples.

With her undergraduate degree in Human and Family development, her master's in Organizational and Human Effectiveness, 20 years of tangible business results, along with her intuition about people and connection to spirit, she is a powerful impact with a dynamic reach.

She has put thousands of people through programs in various sectors of business, the consumer market and the trauma community, accomplishing astounding results in each. Regardless of how you connect with this woman and her work, you will forever be touched. Her touch is deep, her reach is vast, and her results are astounding.

ShannonRae has been a recognized consultant to global Brands like Hilton Grand Vacations and Wyndham Resorts, has spoken at the Iowa statewide DMC conference, Illinois Domestic Violence Association State Conference, UNLV women's studies department, Worldwide Tourism and Security Conference, Wackenhut's National Sales meeting, the City of Las Vegas, and has been the keynote at the Las Vegas Women's Conference two years running. She has spanned more than 17 industries over 20 years covering fortune 500s, non-profits, consumer and government sectors alike. She will speak to thousands of people this year alone on the impact of Power Centered Principles in life, business and relationships.

"We have booked her every quarter, for several years in row, because each time is new, and every time we see results!"
Director of Programs City of Las Vegas.

"Just be prepared, because you will keep asking her back!" shares the Regional Vice President Hilton Grand Vacations

Engaging, experiential and unforgettable, ShannonRae brings to life the principles of Power Centered Living and Leading showing people the practical tools to liberate anything they choose; from relationships to results.

Her memorable presentations are the perfect fit for keynotes, workshops and leadership seminars.

Her passion is speaking to corporate executives, female leaders, entrepreneurs, survivors and those living through trauma.